A PUBLICITY COMMUNIQUE FROM THE HAMMOCKSOURCE

Southport Outdoor Rugs made with DuraCord®
Adorn The Newly Renovated Stetson Mansion,

Greenville, NC-- When the newly renovated 100 year old, Stetson Mansion opens this summer for its two month exhibition, a selection of six Southport Outdoor Rugs made with DuraCord® will adorn the patio and pool areas.

The mansion, which was the winter home of John B. Stetson, of the Stetson Hat fame, is among America’s top 300 historic homes. With the help of ambitious architects, designers, and sponsors, the mansion is being fully renovated to preserve history and updated with new technology in order to prolong the existence. The designers selected the Southport Outdoor Rugs for their motifs and coloration as well as for their ability to outlast the harsh, unpredictable weather that is notorious in The Tropical State. With the addition of the Southport Outdoor Rugs made with DuraCord®, the exteriors of the home will be dressed for the over 15,000 guests expected to visit the home during its exhibition. “We were happy to have been tapped to provide the rugs for this historic home,” states Laurie Rudd, creative director for The HammockSource, the manufacturer of Southport Outdoor Rugs, “This line of rugs provides a finishing touch and will add protection for the home’s exterior surfaces during this time of high traffic.”
